SPRING BREAK FUN IS AT MONT-SAINTE-ANNE AND STONEHAM

Beaupré, February 21st 2018 – Mont-Sainte-Anne and Stoneham Mountain Resort teams have prepared a variety of activities at the mountain, for some Spring Break family moments to enjoy winter sports and the great outdoors. From March 2nd to 18th at Mont-Sainte-Anne and from March 3rd to 11th at Stoneham, skiers of all ages will have a good time with the proposed programs and save a lot with the lodging packages.

AT MONT-SAINTE-ANNE

Spring Break opens at Mont-Sainte-Anne with the Fullmoon Descent on March 2nd. This magical experience consists of going down a ski slope with headlamps in the moonlight. Starting at 9:15 pm, the activity only requires a ski ticket and one functioning headlamp per participant, and is accessible to everyone, even children.

Activities for this long school holiday will continue from March 3rd to 18th with the return of the popular candy bar that made a splash last year, at the summit. Each day offers a different thematic activity, as well as animation and inflatable games at the mountain base. A parent-child rally and yoga, and a guided climb of the mountain with headlamps are also presented by Endorphine Gym as part of Mont-Sainte-Anne's Spring Break program.

AT STONEHAM MOUNTAIN RESORT

From March 3rd to 11th in Stoneham, children and families will be spoiled with a playground, make-up stand, arts and crafts, campfires and BBQs, fun winter survival workshops offered by the Canadian Forces, the visit of our mascot Louam, and many other surprises. From March 6th to 9th, pony rides will please children between two runs.

In the evening, the popular après-ski at the Quatre-Foyers Bar promise to keep skiers' legs in action, on the dance floor this time, especially with musical performances by local bands on Friday and Saturday nights.

SKI + LODGING PACKAGE

Visitors looking to sleep in the area, whether it's at Mont-Sainte-Anne or Stoneham, will find the ideal lodging deal in the Happy Parents Package, where kids ski for free.
